As one of the leading teaching & research universities in Indonesia,

Universitas Sebelas Maret (UNS) has built its vision and strategic plan on becoming an internationally excellent center of development of science, technology, and arts; based on the noble values of national culture.

As the global higher education environment becomes increasingly competitive, UNS strives to improve the quality of education and research by establishing three Centers of Excellence in Science and Technology that effectively integrate education and research in distinctive fields of science, technology, and social studies.

Focusing on enhancing their specialized subject areas and on developing their capacity to meet world-class standards, the three centers are Center of Excellence in Lithium-Ion Battery Technology, Center of Excellence in FinTech (Financial Technology), and Center of Excellence in Javanology that focuses on the study, development, and preservation of Javanese culture.

The establishment of the centers is aimed at encouraging UNS researchers to gain the knowledge and strategic skills needed to achieve their full potential. The centers are also expected to provide support to enhance research capabilities that can foster research to engage in the international academic world.

As one of the outstanding universities in Indonesia, UNS is academically excellent, surrounded by green, cultural, and peaceful environment. It is located in the city of Surakarta, Central Java Indonesia. Its vision is becoming an internationally excellent center of development of science, technology, and arts based on the noble values of national culture.

To extend its network, UNS has maintained good cooperation with more than 300 institutions including government offices, universities/colleges, state-owned and private-owned enterprises, foundations, and other social institutions, both in Indonesia and overseas.

The wide green area in UNS campus comforts its society with fresh air. UNS main campus standing near Bengawan Solo, the longest river in Java, supports its students to study conveniently. The convenience of studying in UNS is encouraged by its facilities: library, research center, laboratories, language center, sport center, Wi-Fi area, campus bus, etc.

Indonesia's Most Liveable City

Living in SOLO

the spirit of java

Solo, more formally known as Surakarta, lies in the center of Javanese culture in the province of Central Java. The city is well connected to other cities in Indonesia with extensive bus, train, and air links.

In 2020, the Association of Planning Experts' survey voted Solo as the most liveable city in Indonesia. This recognition comes as no surprise to Solo residents who live in a diverse and peaceful environment. In addition, Solo is also popular for its safety and cleanliness.

Solo is calm city away from crowded metropolitan area. Living in Solo provides an access to witness historical remains and distinguished culture of the heritage city. Solo is also a place of opposites, where the traditional way of life is tightly interwoven with the urban style coloring the atmosphere of life. Complete modern facilities of the city do not eliminate the long established local identity of Javanese tones in every beat of day-to-day activities of the city. Traditional market stand still accompanied by modern malls; two historical palaces, Kasunan and Mangkunegaran, show their glorious past in contrast to modern iconic architectures; not to mention various cultural festivals that are open to broad audience every year. Traditional crafts, especially batik, are also well represented.

The low cost of living in the city adds the convenience. Many people consider living in Solo cheaper than living anywhere else in Indonesia.

The average monthly cost of living in Solo for a single adult (in Indonesian Rupiah)

1. Housing	:1,000,000
2. Meal	:600,000
3. Transportation	:400,000
4. Healthcare	:250,000
5. Miscellaneous	:250,000
TOTAL	:2,500,000

(1 USD is approximately IDR 14,150)

Studying in Universitas Sebelas Maret is enjoyable, and it has a good atmosphere to study. I got so many chances to contribute in non-academic activities as well, so it improved my knowledge about the social and culture of Indonesia. Of course I have some difficulties during my study, but there are always some helping hands for me. Here I got experiences I think I could adopt in my country when I come back

Solo is like my second hometown. People in Solo are friendly, polite, and helpful. I feel safe when I live in Solo.ed at

So far, my experiences have been very colorful. On my first semester, I have been through a lot of difficulties, especially with language issue, but luckily, I had the best and understanding lecturers ever. They definitely accompanied me step by step so I could be at the same level as my classmates.

It's been five years that I came and back from this campus that I've never got tired of it. I've been visiting a lot of big cities in Indonesia, but so far, Solo is my favorite one.

The city just amazed me by the way it looks, by its people, and especially by the sympathy and friendly way that Soionese people welcome me everywhere I go. I would say I love living in Solo because I love eating, and food is just everywhere with affordable price, and I would definitely recommend Solo for anyone who wanna come to visit Indonesia.

I feel comfortable doing my study in UNS because of what I found from International Office from my classmates from lecturers, the environment to study, the facilities in campus. Everything makes me happy and creative during my study in UNS

I'm enjoying my life in Solo. Actually everything is Solo makes you comfortable. The people are very kind. The food is delicious. Prices are cheap. It's all around the city. Everything makes you comfortable in Solo.
